- IMPORTANT: If you have not participated in the Ruushi Invasion event for a few weeks, your previously earned faction may fade permanently in the next couple of days! (Faction earned before this message has a duration of 4 weeks before it disappears.) In order to retain your previously earned faction, you must earn at least 1 faction point before 28 days has elapsed since your last faction gain.

From this point on, new faction gains will refresh your faction duration for a much longer period (2 years).

- The Ruushi lookout has been added to the watchtower above the temple. He can provide status reports on a current Invasion in progress, and a battle summary for a recently completed Invasion.
